Just One Touch – Local & State

This opportunity will require communication with your local Pregnancy Center. All Centers have individual needs. This is a wonderful service project for young teens to focus on.

Once you receive direct communication from the specific Pregnancy Center regarding their needs, you will need to put out a list of supplies needed, or a signup sheet with times the students are willing to volunteer.

It is always prudent to remind your students of the situation they will enter and the circumstances of many of the clients. Sensitivity to each situation is vital.

Potential needs of a Pregnancy Center:

- *disposable diapers
- *baby formula
- *baby clothing
- *maternity clothing
- *strollers
- *car seats
- *babysitting in the Center

Sandy Epperson is the director of the First Orlando Pregnancy Center in Orlando, FL. She has generously agreed to be a contact person and to assist you with any questions you may have. If you do not have a center in your local area, this center would deeply appreciate your support.
